Hansons Auction Theatre in Teddington

Hansons Fine Art and Antiques Auctions are held every month in The Normansfield Theatre, Langdon Down Centre, 2A Langdon Park, Teddington TW11 9PS.

The venue is a fine Grade II listed theatre originally built in 1877 as an entertainment hall. The venue has been a popular filming location, most notably for ITV's Downton Abbey and also Agatha Christie's Poirot.

Considered one of the most important private theatres in the country, the venue provides a wonderful setting for the drama of an auction.

Hansons invite sellers and buyers to enjoy the saleroom experience and the enthusiasm put into auctioneering to maximise financial return.

If you are unable to attend in person, you can watch the auction live via the-saleroom.com. Hansons consistently maintains the highest number of online bidders per month across the UK and globally with a live audio and visual link to the saleroom.

Hansons also offer a packaging and delivery service to buyers worldwide.

Hansons invite you to learn more about our services, for enquiries telephone 020 8979 7954.

Voluntary donations welcome for the Down's Syndrome Association
Hansons support The Down's Syndrome Association, the only organisation focusing solely on all aspects of living successfully with Down's syndrome.

"In London, one of history's richest cities, we thrive on selling lots with theatre, drama and romance and in turn, enriching both buyer and seller with a passionate service, encouraging one more bid before we say "going, going, gone".
